Bus Depot, Cecil Park Tailored solutions for every client

Alland Group have just completed the electrical component of a purpose built bus depot at Cecil Park, with partners Rohrig. This state of the art facility will ensure that Transit Systems provide exceptional service to its ever increasing customer base, both now and into the future.

Transit Systems is one of Australia's most experienced public transport providers, and operates region 3 of Sydney's metropolitan bus network covering the Liverpool, Fairfield and Holroyd areas.

Transit Systems manages a modern fleet of over 230 vehicles, and is one of the youngest bus fleets in metropolitan Sydney. Transit System first fully wheelchair accessible large fleet bus network in New South Wales, and is thus amongst the most accessible modes of public transport in the country for commuters. Alland Group carried out a turnkey solution for Transit Services on Cowpasture Road at Cecil Park. Our works were based on client requirements and Australian compliance including BCA 2293.1, Section J, AS3000, AS3008 and energy efficiency compliance.

The scope of works included, 240v/415v Lighting and Power reticulation, Krone Category 6A communications, cabling and infrastructure, Switchboards, Intelligent lighting control, car park extended pole lighting, emergency and exit lighting, energy efficiency, in ground infrastructure and much more.

The project was successfully handed over to our client on time and within budget requirements.

Testimonial

Rohrig (NSW) Pty Ltd

“From boutique hotels to school extensions, from major club and pub refurbishments to major commercial facilities, Rohrig’s projects meet multiple challenges and help clients embrace new opportunities.

Our 24+ years of success have been built on a better experience for our clients as well as end results that stand amongst Australia’s best. Rohrig’s goal is developing great people and building a unique culture that emphasizes being easy to deal with, transparency and stretching that little bit further to achieve outstanding results every time and Alland Group fully understand and embrace that culture.

Alland Group were a major part of the overall success of our works at the Bus Depot. From the initial meeting and throughout the entire project to completion, their professionalism and integrity was a credit to their quality of employees. When items required discussion, no matter how big or small, their attention to detail was maintained until the final outcome was delivered.

I would highly recommend Alland Group. They are professional, hard-working and completely focused on achieving client outcomes. In working with Alland, I got a sense they genuinely care about achieving the result Rohrig were looking for while also meeting budget expectations.”
